NOTE) All property right is kept in Renesas. We grant licensee only the re-use right by the license agreement.

Right for Internal Use	The Licensee can use the OS object code in the section of the Licensee. This right is supposed that the OS is used just in a prototype system for the licensee's development.
Right for Copy	The Licensee has the right to copy the OS object code and put it onto licensee's instrument product. For agreement of Mass Production License, maximum number of copies is entered in an agreement. Duplicate number of copies chooses either unrestricted or 1000 copies. A price changes with duplicate number of copies.
Right for Sublicense	The Licensee can distribute/sale their instrument product which include the OS object code. The OS object code should be translated to an executable format on the instrument with Licensee's software.
Host Machine Limitation	The OS is offered by a media (CD, FD or MT). At Evaluation License, licensee can install it on the limited number of Host machine.(Chose 1,5, or 10)
Application Limitation	Licensee have to write the application name (or the project name) in the Mass Production License agreement. (For example, Ink Jet Printer, color copy machine for business use, low price car navigation, etc.) If the usage is changed, you have to buy another license.
Device Limitation	Licensee have to write the target device type name in the agreement. If the target device type is changed, you have to buy another license.
