Proposal No. 2: Election of Accounting Auditor

Ernst & Young ShinNihon LLC, the Accounting Auditor of the Company, will retire at the conclusion of this General Meeting due to the expiration of its term of office.

Accordingly, it is proposed that PricewaterhouseCoopers Aarata LLC be newly elected as the Accounting Auditor, based on the decision of the Board of Corporate Auditors.

1. Reason why the Board of Corporate Auditors has elected PricewaterhouseCoopers Aarata LLC as Accounting Auditor candidate instead of Ernst & Young ShinNihon LLC

Since the Company has appointed Ernst & Young ShinNihon LLC as Accounting Auditor for a long term, the Company thought that it should reevaluate and reconsider the Accounting Auditor, and the Board of Corporate Auditors considered multiple audit corporations, including PricewaterhouseCoopers Aarata LLC, in accordance with the Company's accounting auditor evaluation and selection criteria.

As a result, the Board of Corporate Auditors has judged that PricewaterhouseCoopers Aarata LLC is eligible as the Company's new Accounting Auditor, because it has expertise, independence and quality management required as its Accounting Auditor as well as has a system to audit its group's global business activities in a uniform manner. In addition, due to change of the Accounting Auditor, it is expected further improvements in the reliability of our financial information through audits with different viewpoints and methods.

Proposal No. 3: Grant of stock acquisition rights as stock options by applying special conditions under the California State Securities Law to the Company's and its subsidiaries' directors, corporate officers and employees residing in the State of California, U.S.A.

The Company has granted stock acquisition rights (the "Stock Acquisition Right(s)") to Directors (excluding Outside Directors), Corporate Officers and employees of the Company and its subsidiaries as "stock compensation type stock options" in order to increase the stock price and increase the willingness to contribute to the corporate value by sharing the benefits of rising stock prices and the risks of falling stock prices with the Company's shareholders. The Company considers that grant of Stock Acquisition Rights for residents abroad does not fall under the category of favorable issue that requires a special resolution at a general meeting of shareholders under the Companies Act of Japan, because it does not require payment of money but has the aspect of consideration for the provision of labor services, and because the Company can enjoy the appropriate benefits in terms of the effect of improving motivation to work, etc.

However, when granting Stock Acquisition Rights to residents abroad, securities laws and other laws and regulations of the country in which the subject residents are to be applied in addition to the Japanese laws, and procedures such as application for permission may be required for the authorities. In the same way, when granting Stock Acquisition Rights to residents of the State of California, U.S.A which exceeds a certain number of persons, procedures such as license from the authorities and disclosure are required in principal. However, the approval of a majority of the voting rights of our shareholders present allows grant of Stock Acquisition Rights to be exempted from registration under the California Corporate Securities Law of 1968, as it may be amended from time to time (the "California State Securities Law").

In order to facilitate the grant of such Stock Acquisition Rights, it is proposed that the Company be authorized to grant the Stock Acquisition Rights to Directors (excluding Outside Directors), corporate officers and employees of the Company and its subsidiaries who are residents of the State of California, U.S.A. by applying special conditions under the California State Securities Law.

In addition, the approval based on this Proposal shall extend to the Stock Acquisition Rights issued within twelve (12) months before and after this General Meeting.

1. Outline of Stock Acquisition Rights

- (1) Persons to whom Stock Acquisition Rights will be allotted

Directors (excluding Outside Directors), Corporate Officers and employees of the Company and its subsidiaries who reside in the State of California, U.S.A. (the "Grantee(s)").

- (2) Total number of Stock Acquisition Rights to be allotted

The maximum number of Stock Acquisition Rights to be allotted will be 647,100.

- (3) Class and number of stocks to be allotted upon exercise of Stock Acquisition Rights

The class of stocks to be allotted upon exercise of the Stock Acquisition Rights shall be the Company's common stocks, and the number of stocks to be allotted upon exercise of each Stock Acquisition Rights (the "Number of Stocks to be Granted") shall be 100 shares. However, in the case of a stock split (including gratuitous allotment of common stocks; the same applies to all stock splits hereinafter) or stock consolidation of the Company's common stocks by the Company on or after the allotment date, the Number of Stocks to be Granted shall be adjusted using the following formula with respect to the Stock Acquisition Rights that have not been exercised at the time of such stock split or stock consolidation:

(Adjusted Number of Stocks to be Granted)

= (Number of Stocks to be Granted before adjustment) × (Ratio of stock split or stock consolidation)

In addition to the above, if, on or after the allotment date, the Company carries out a merger or company split, or deems it necessary (to essentially the same extent) to adjust the Number of Stocks to be Granted in other situations, the Company may appropriately adjust the Number of Stocks to be Granted to a reasonable extent. Fraction less than one (1) share generated as a result of the adjustment shall be rounded down.

(4) Amount of assets to be contributed upon exercise of the Stock Acquisition Rights

The contribution to be made upon exercise of the Stock Acquisition Rights shall be made for cash, and the amount of the assets to be contributed upon exercise of each Stock Acquisition Rights shall be obtained by multiplying one (1) Japanese yen (the "Exercise Amount"), which is the amount per stock to be delivered upon exercise of such Stock Acquisition Rights, by the Number of Stocks to be Granted.

(5) Exercise period of Stock Acquisition Rights

The period shall be determined by the Meeting of the Board of Directors within the range of ten (10) years from the following day after Stock Acquisition Rights are granted (the "Exercise Period").

However, unless a shorter exercise period applies under the Stock Acquisition Rights Allotment Agreement (the "Agreement"), the vested Stock Acquisition Rights granted to the Grantees shall remain exercisable (subject to any applicable restrictions) (i) until the expiration of the period commencing on the date the Stock Acquisition Right first is no longer subject to a substantial risk of forfeiture for U.S. federal income tax purposes and ending on December 31 of the calendar year in which the Stock Acquisition Right first is no longer subject to such substantial risk of forfeiture, or (ii) if determined by the Meeting of the Board of Directors of the Company in its sole discretion, until the fifteenth (15th) day of the third (3rd) month following the end of the calendar year in which the Stock Acquisition Right first is no longer subject to a substantial risk of forfeiture, or if later, the fifteenth (15th) day of the third (3rd) month following the end of the taxable year of the Company in which the Stock Acquisition Right first is no longer subject to such substantial risk of forfeiture (the "Short-Term Deferral Period").

(6) Restrictions on acquisition of Stock Acquisition Rights by transfer

Acquisition of Stock Acquisition Rights by transfer requires the approval of the Meeting of the Company's Board of Directors.

(7) Conditions of execution of Stock Acquisition Rights

(i) The Grantees shall be in the position of Director, Corporate Officer, Corporate Auditor, Executive Officer or employee of the Company or its subsidiaries (the “Exercise Qualification”) at the time of exercise of Stock Acquisition Rights.

- (ii) If the Grantees lose their Exercise Qualification (other than loss due to their death), they may exercise their Stock Acquisition Rights only within the period of thirteen (13) months after the immediate following day of the day of loss of the Exercise Qualification (only if during the Exercise Period).
- (iii) If the Grantees die, their Stock Acquisition Rights may be succeeded to by only one (1) of their heirs (the “Rights Successors”). In this case, the Rights Successors may exercise the Stock Acquisition Rights in a lump sum and only before the day that is six (6) months after the day immediately following the day on which the Grantees die (only if during the Exercise Period). If the Rights Successors die, their heirs may not further succeed to the Stock Acquisition Rights.
- (iv) If the Grantees waive the Stock Acquisition Rights, they not exercise such Stock Acquisition Rights.

(8) Other items of Stock Acquisition Rights

Other items of Stock Acquisition Rights shall be determined by the Meeting of the Company’s Board of Directors which resolves subscription requirements etc. of Stock Acquisition Rights.

2. Special terms under the California State Securities Law

- (1) (i) No Stock Acquisition Rights shall be granted and no stock shall be delivered or sold to the Grantees who are, are expected to be or become subject to U.S taxes (the “U.S. Taxpayers”), unless such grant, delivery and sale is in compliance with U.S. federal securities laws and any applicable U.S. state securities laws, and (ii) stocks acquired by U.S. Taxpayers pursuant to the exercise of Stock Acquisition Rights may only be resold in compliance with the registration requirements or an applicable exemption from the registration requirements of the U.S. Securities Act of 1933.
- (2) Notwithstanding any provision of the Agreement or the detailed rules relating to the Stock Acquisition Rights to the contrary, the Stock Acquisition Rights granted to the Grantees shall be subject to the following additional limitations, terms and conditions:
 - (i) each Stock Acquisition Right shall be granted in accordance with Rule 701 of the U.S. Securities Act of 1933 (the “Rule 701”), unless such grant is in compliance with the registration requirements or an applicable exemption from the registration requirements of the U.S. Securities Act of 1933;
 - (ii) the Stock Acquisition Rights shall not be granted more than ten (10) years after the date on which the Agreement is approved by the Meeting of the Board of Directors or the date on which this General Meeting is held, whichever is earlier;
 - (iii) in the event that the Grantees’ employment with the Company or its subsidiaries terminates due to their death or disability, such Grantees’ Stock Acquisition Rights which vest as of the termination date of the said employment shall remain exercisable (subject to any applicable dealing restrictions or other securities law restrictions) for at least six (6) months following the

- said termination date (or, if earlier, the expiration of the Exercise period), and thereafter, such Stock Acquisition Rights shall immediately lapse and automatically be cancelled; provided, however, that if such post-termination exercise period would exceed the Short-Term Deferral Period, then, in lieu of such exercise period, (i) each Stock Acquisition Right held by such Grantees as of the termination date, to the extent that on such date (a) such Stock Acquisition Right is vested and (b) the fair market value of the shares underlying such Stock Acquisition Right exceeds the exercise price of such Stock Acquisition Right on such date, shall be automatically exercised subject to full payment of the Exercise Amount by the termination date, and (ii) all other Stock Acquisition Rights held by such Grantees, to the extent not automatically exercised as provided herein, shall immediately lapse and automatically be cancelled;
- (vi) in the event that the Grantees' employment with the Company or its subsidiaries terminates due to any reason other than death, disability or any cause attributable to the Grantees, such Grantees' Stock Acquisition Rights which vest as of the said termination date, shall remain exercisable (subject to any applicable dealing restrictions or other securities law restrictions) for at least thirty (30) days following the said termination date (or, if earlier, the expiration of the Exercise Period), and thereafter, such Stock Acquisition Rights shall immediately lapse and automatically be cancelled;
- (v) the Stock Acquisition Rights shall be non-transferable except to the extent of a transfer by will, laws of descent and distribution, to a revocable trust, or as permitted by Rule 701; and

Business Report

(For the period from January 1, 2018 to December 31, 2018 (this “Business Period”))

1. Overview of Operations of the Group

(1) Business Progress and Results

(i) Overview

For this Business Period, the uncertainty over the world economy increased despite continued moderate growth. While the U.S. economy remained steady based on the strong private consumption and corporate capital investment in plant and equipment, other regional economies experienced a slowdown due to the impact of trade friction and Brexit (withdrawal of the U.K. from the European Union). Especially in China, the sales at retail decelerated remarkably, and sales of high-priced products such as automobiles and home appliances have fallen from the previous year.

As for the semiconductor market which is the Group's business sector, while the semiconductor market for automotive and industrial equipment showed a high growth rate in the first half of this Business Period, the deceleration appeared due to the influence of the overall slowdown in production of electronic equipment and inventory reduction on the backdrop of the uncertain future of market conditions in the latter half of this Business Period.

Under these business environments, the Group worked together aggressively to achieve goals such as “Expanding and Strengthening of Business Portfolio to Accelerate the Leap to the Growth Stage” and “Continuous Optimization of the Manufacturing Structure” with the aim of growing stable and sustainable in the rapidly changing and global competitive semiconductor market and becoming the number one semiconductor solution company in the focused business sectors.

First, with regard to “Expanding and Strengthening of Business Portfolio to Accelerate the Leap to the Growth Stage”, the Group strategically and intensively invested its management resources into focus areas for which the Group can fully exhibit its strengths and achieve the stable and sustainable growth in the global marketplace, through both organic approach (approach in which the Group expands and strengthens its own existing businesses) and inorganic approach (approach in which the Group takes advantages of strategic alliances with other companies or in which the Group purchases other companies). In particular, in the business fields for automotive, industrial equipment and broad-based use that the Group is focusing on, the Group developed and offered a number of highly profitable products and technologies that meet market needs, by utilizing of its competitive advantage at maximum, and received a high evaluation from the market. In addition, in order to strengthen the Group's solution offerings and expanding business growth opportunities by acquiring complementary products and technology, the Company agreed to acquire Integrated Device Technology, Inc. (headquartered in the State of California, U.S.A.) (“IDT”), a U.S.-listed company that provides analog IC products for the growing data economy related markets, whereby it will make IDT a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Company, and proceeded preparations for its implementation. In connection with this acquisition, the Company changed a part of the use of funds for third-party share issuance executed by the Company as of September 30, 2013, for the purpose of allocating it for the Company's acquisition funds.

Next, with regard to “Continuous Optimization of Manufacturing Structure”, in order to build a production system that can respond flexibly and efficiently to customers' needs of the world, the Group improved the productivity of factories through innovative approach by utilizing AI (Artificial Intelligence). Also, the Group reviewed production system of the Company and domestic production subsidiaries and decided to integrate some functions of Renesas Semiconductor Manufacturing Co., Ltd., specializing front-end operation (semiconductor wafer processing), and Renesas Semiconductor Package & Test Solutions Co., Ltd., specializing back-end operation (semiconductor device assembly and testing process), into the Company. In addition, the Group closed the Kochi Factory of Renesas Semiconductor Manufacturing Co., Ltd., and also decided to close the Yamaguchi Factory and to consolidate of some production lines of Shiga Factory of Renesas Semiconductor Manufacturing Co., Ltd., within around next 2 years to 3 years or so, due to the difficulty to maintain profitability.

In addition, as part of strengthening the foundation that supports the Group's global business operations, the Group continued to reorganize and consolidate the Group companies, including the former Intersil Corporation (“Former Intersil”) and its subsidiaries, which the Company acquired in the previous business period. Also, the Group addressed the improvement of various operation processes for total optimization, and, in order to improve the international comparability of financial information in the capital market, promoted the preparation of the introduction of International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS) scheduled to be applied arbitrarily from the financial statements in Annual Securities Report for this Business Period. Meanwhile, the major shareholders of the Company have completed selling to foreign and domestic investors their shares of the Company equivalent to approximately sixteen 16% of total number of issued shares of the Company. As a result, in addition to the past, this improved the liquidity of our stocks and expanded our investor base.

(ii) Summary of Consolidated Financial Results

Consolidated financial results of the Group for this Business Period were as follows.

Consolidated Net sales

Consolidated net sales for this Business Period were 757.4 billion yen, a 2.9% decrease year on year. This was mainly due to weakening demand for focused applications including automotive and industrial from increasing uncertainties in the global economy, as well as the continuing efforts to reduce channel inventory which built up during the previous business period, leading to a decrease in sales.

Following the completion of the acquisition of Former Intersil in February 2017, the Group integrated Former Intersil into its operations and reformed its business organization into three (3) business units in April 2017. The consolidated net sales of the Group are composed of the main product groups, “Automotive Business,” “Industrial Business” and “Broad-based Business,” three (3) application categories that constitute the main businesses of the Group, and “Other Semiconductors Business,” that constitutes the businesses that do not belong to the above three (3) application categories and “Sales from Others” that fit into neither of the above product categories. Sales of respective areas were as follows:

(Automotive Business)

The Automotive Business includes the product categories “Automotive control,” comprising semiconductor devices for controlling automobile engines and bodies, and “Automotive information,” comprising semiconductor devices used in automotive information systems such as navigation systems. The Group mainly supplies microcontrollers (MCUs), system-on-chips (SoCs), analog semiconductor devices and power semiconductor devices in each of these categories.

Sales of Automotive Business for this Business Period were 398.5 billion yen, a decrease of 3.4% year on year. This was due to decreases in sales in both the “Automotive control” and “Automotive information” categories.

(Industrial Business)

The Industrial Business includes the product categories "Smart factory", "Smart home" and "Smart infrastructure" which support the smart society. The Group mainly supplies MCUs and SoCs in each of these categories.

Sales of Industrial Business for this Business Period were 187.2 billion yen, a decrease of 4.7% year on year. This was due to decreases sales in all of “Smart factory”, “Smart home” and “Smart infrastructure” categories.

(Broad-Based Business)

The Broad-based Business targets a wide variety of end-market solutions. In this business, the Group mainly supplies "General-purpose MCUs " and “General-purpose analog semiconductor devices".

Sales of Broad-based Business for this Business Period were 151.3 billion yen, an increase of 0.6% year on year. This was due to sales in the “General-purpose analog semiconductor devices" category increased, while the sales in the “General-purpose MCUs” category decreased.

(Other Semiconductors Business)

Sales of Other Semiconductors Business include production by commissioning and royalties.

Sales of Other Semiconductors Business for this Business Period were 3.4 billion yen.

(Sales from Others)

Sales from Others include development and production by commissioning conducted at the Group’s design and manufacturing subsidiaries.

Sales from Others for this Business Period were 16.9 billion yen, a 6.3% increase year on year.

Consolidated Operating Income

Consolidated operating income for this Business Period was 66.8 billion yen, an 11.6 billion yen decrease year on year. This was mainly due to a decrease in sales for the Automotive Business and Industrial Business.

Consolidated Ordinary Income

Consolidated ordinary income for this Business Period was 65.1 billion yen, a 10.2 billion yen decrease year on year. This was mainly due to a decrease in operating income.

Consolidated Net Income attributable to shareholders of parent company

Consolidated net income attributable to shareholders of parent company for this Business Period was 54.6 billion yen, a 22.6 billion yen decrease year on year. This was mainly due to a temporary increase in cost payments caused by any revision of the production agreement with an outsourcing foundry.

As above, the Group recorded a consolidated net income (net income attributable to shareholders of parent company) for this Business Period, but the Group forewent dividend payment for this Business Period. The Group will spend the internal reserve on strategic investment opportunities in order to correspond the rapidly environmental changes for surviving global competition, also dealing with improvement for the corporate value to increase shareholders' profit. We will continue to exert our efforts for further improvement of profitability and stabilization of the business toward the resumption of dividends from a long-term perspective. In this regard, we respectfully ask for our shareholders' continuous understanding and support.

(2) Issues to be Addressed by the Group

As indicated in the "1. (1) Business Progress and Results" section, during this Business Period, the Group, as a result of unified efforts to implement "Expanding and Strengthening of Business Portfolio to Accelerate the Leap to the Growth Stage" and "Continuous Optimization of the Manufacturing Structure", brought the establishment of a stable financial base clearly into view, although the net sales declined compared with the previous business period.

Nevertheless, the Group believes that it must make continuous improvements of product mix and maintain further growth and expand earnings in order to come thrive in the rapidly changing fiercely competitive semiconductor industry and continue to meet the expectations of all stakeholders.

To achieve this goal, the Group will implement efforts of the following themes.

(i) Expanding and Strengthening of Business Portfolio to Accelerate the Leap to the Growth Stage

In order to make the leap to the growth stage and achieve stable earnings growth, the Group will accelerate efforts to expand and strengthen its business portfolio, through both organic and inorganic approaches, in its focus areas including automotive, industrial, and broad-based, where the Group possesses global strengths and is competitive.

First, efforts based on an organic approach will include ongoing efforts to further optimize the business structure, and research and development (R&D), while at the same time to deal with the accelerating changes in the Group's business portfolio and areas of technology development accompanying the acquisition of Former Intersil. To achieve stable earnings growth in the focus areas, the Group will regularly analyze and evaluate the business environment in terms of markets, customers, competitors, etc., in each of these focus areas. At the same time, the Group will review its business portfolio from the standpoint of competitiveness and profitability, implement selection and concentration of business domains and products.

With regard to efforts based on an inorganic approach, in addition to Former Intersil acquired in the previous business period, the Company entered into a contract to acquire IDT and make it a wholly owned subsidiary of the Company. In addition to completing the acquisition promptly from now on, the Group will maximize synergies by strengthening solution proposal capability by acquiring highly complementary products and technologies, expanding sales routes while fusing development technologies and products, and by building a global manufacturing system based on the production models of both group companies, and it will exert its efforts to expand and strengthen its business in the focus areas.

(ii) Continuous Optimization of the Manufacturing Structure

The Group has implemented a wide-ranging optimization of its manufacturing structure through the "Reform Plan" that the Company has been working on from 2013 to 2015 to survive in the global semiconductor market with its rapid and extreme changes and competition. Moving forward, the Group will continue to make further improvements to make the production structure more efficient, while also putting in place a flexible production system capable of meeting the requirements of customers worldwide.

Specifically, some of the Group's production facilities have continued to operate by using equipment or manufacturing processes that are not as efficient as newer equipment. Therefore, moving forward, the Group will continue unceasingly its optimization of the manufacturing structure, with the goal of further improvement in production efficiency and reduced cost.

In addition, during this Business Period, the Company also made capital investment focusing on equipment renovation, etc. in order to secure the proper production capacity of the Group's focus products and improve efficiency. Moving forward, the Group will continue capital investment in its facilities to support highly competitive production processes and smart factories, while also outsourcing some production, as it pushes forward with efforts to build a manufacturing structure capable of responding flexibly to customer demand.

(3) Research and Development of the Group

(i) Promote intelligence to endpoints through SOTB™ process technology which creates new markets and "e-AI solution" evolving with DRP technology and contribute to the spread of IoT

In recent IoT (Internet of Things) equipment, which is becoming increasingly popular, solving power supply problems such as battery replacement and charging is one of the challenges. While promoting low power consumption of products, the Group developed an embedded controller dedicated to energy harvesting that eliminates the need for batteries.

This controller, by adopting SOTB™ (Silicon On Thin Buried Oxide) (Note 1) process technology originated by the Group, realizes extreme reduction of both active and standby power consumption, which has typically been a trade-off. These extreme low power levels of the SOTB-based embedded controller enables IoT devices to operate by using a slight amount of harvesting ambient energy sources such as light, vibration, and flow, without any batteries. This will give rise to a new market of maintenance-free connected IoT sensing devices with endpoint intelligence for applications in various areas, such as acquisition of biological information from fitness cloths and shoes, installation of sensor devices monitoring soil at farms, management of public infrastructure by using vibration sensing of buildings.

Also, in recent years, movement to utilize AI for IoT devices has become active, but there are several problems such as difficulty transferring large amounts of sensor data to the cloud for processing, and delays waiting for AI judgments to be transferred back from the cloud. To solve these problems, the Group has focused on “e-AI (embedded-Artificial Intelligence)”, which implements AI technology at the end of the network (endpoint), as one of the focusing technologies and provided e-AI solution that realizes the evolution of embedded devices. In addition to the e-AI solution using current and vibration waveforms with relatively small amount of data so far, the Group has developed the microprocessor “RZ/A2M” which makes it possible to realize micro-processing that can be processed in real time on the embedded device side without raising the AI processing of image data with a large amount of information to the cloud.

This product incorporates the Group’s exclusive DRP (Dynamically Reconfigurable Processor)(Note 2). Although this DRP is a semiconductor hardware, it can instantly change the configuration of the arithmetic circuit with software, so it combines high performance of hardware and flexibility of software. This enables biometric authentication using fingerprints or iris scans, and high-speed scanning by handheld scanners and solves several issues associated with cloud-based approaches, such as the difficulty of achieving real-time performance, assuring privacy, and maintaining security.

In addition to innovative SOTB™ process technology, the Group will promote “Intelligence to Endpoint” which makes smart devices at the end of IoT's network by evolving the e-AI solution and contribute to wider spread of IoT.

- (Note) 1. SOTB™: This is the unique SOTB process technology originated by the Group. An oxide film (BOX: buried oxide) is buried under a thin silicon layer on the wafer substrate. As no impurities are doped to the thin silicon layer which makes it possible to maintain stable operation at low voltages, the devices can deliver high computing performance with excellent power efficiency. At the same time, the potential of the silicon substrate below the BOX layer is controlled to reduce leakage currents and further suppress standby power consumption.
2. DRP: A hardware intellectual property (IP) module originated by the Group which is capable of dynamically changing the configuration of its processing circuit from one clock cycle to the next.

(ii) Accelerate commercialization of autonomous vehicles by providing end-to-end solutions such as state-of-the-art vehicle control microcomputer adopting 28 nanometer process technology and SoC for image recognition

While technological development for autonomous vehicles is progressing rapidly, the realization requires control functions that are fundamental to "running, turning and stopping" of vehicles as well as recognition functions of people and goods, and communication functions. The Group has provided end-to-end solutions, which cover from sensing function to vehicle control function, for ADAS (Advanced Driver Assistance System) and autonomous vehicles. The Group announced and launched the sample shipment of the industry's first automotive control microcontroller “RH850/E2x Series”, using a 28 nanometer (nm) (Note 1) process technology.

The greatest feature of this product is, compared to the earlier 40nm MCUs, to achieve approximately three (3) times higher performance at the same power level. This will enable to develop next-generation fuel-efficient engines, as well as to improve the efficiency and realize miniaturization of motors and inverters used in EV (Electric Vehicles) and PHEV (Plug-in Hybrid Electric Vehicles). In addition to that, by adopting the Group’s proprietary SG-MONOS (Note 2) technology, the Group succeeded in incorporating large capacity memory into flash memory. This makes it possible to update the program by OTA (Over The Air) (Note 3) even during driving, and to apply a control program with higher safety according to the situation even in the autonomous driving era.

In developing the automated driving system, advanced sensing processing that recognizes the surrounding environment in real time is required, and the method is expected to be computer vision performance using AI processing. The Group developed new SoC “R-Car V3H” that embeds dedicated circuits which recognize the AI processing with industry-leading high speed and low power levels, targeting image recognition (smart cameras).

In automotive business, the Group aims to provide practical and realistic semiconductor solutions that can be embedded in mass-produced vehicles with popular price. For that reason, the Group is seeking an optimal balance between product performance and low power consumption so that it not only fulfills the performance of processing image signals at high speed but also can be embedded in a housing for vehicle that is exposed to direct sunlight and prone to high temperature. By using AI dedicated circuits to meet the needs of these markets, the Group succeeded in combining tasks that were in a trade-off relationship between advanced computer vision processing and low power level. As the Group can realize product development that is more scalable through providing this product and "R-Car V3M", one grade below this product, which is suitable for driving support functions such as emergency automatic braking, the Group can respond flexibly to developments and demands of customers.

The Group will accelerate the practical application of automated driving and contribute to the creation of a safer automobile society through the development of advanced technologies and the provision of high-quality solutions that can be embedded on mass-produced vehicles.

(Note) 1. Nanometer: One nanometer is one billionth of a meter.

2. SG-MONOS: MONOS is an abbreviated name of “Metal-Oxide-Nitride-Oxide-Silicon”, a structure in which each transistor in the flash cell consists of three layers—oxide, nitride, and oxide—on a silicon base, with a metal control gate at the top. Based on the track record in MONOS technology, the Group successfully developed the new technology “SG-MONOS” by developing a split-gate (SG) structure which divide gate electrodes into two sections. The new technology realizes MCUs with high reliability, high speed and low power consumption.

3. OTA: This is the system which enables drivers to update or upgrade the OS and other software for automobiles via the wireless network

(4) Capital Investment etc. of the Group

The total amount of capital investment by the Group (on the investment decision basis) was 17.6 billion yen during this Business Period. This was mainly used with the aim of investment for renewing the manufacturing equipment at production facilities etc.

(5) Financing Activities of the Group

As indicated in the “1. (1) Business Progress and Results” section, to finance a portion of the funds necessary for the acquisition of IDT, the Company entered into a term loan agreement but did not execute borrowing during this Business Period. With the intention to refinance the acquisition loan and existing term loan as the medium-and-long term funds, the Company has newly entered into a syndicated loan agreement (total amount: 897 billion yen) in January 2019.

As of the end of this Business Period, debt with interest of the Group was 192.8 billion yen, a 36.8 billion yen decrease from the end of the previous business period.

The Company did not issue new shares or corporate bonds in this Business Period.

An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the consolidated financial statements.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.
