Product Alert Notification: Failing Units Mixed with Good Units in the Product Shipment

Renesas shipped product with failing units accidentally mixed in with good units due to test hardware issue. Product functionality or compliance with datasheet parameters cannot be guaranteed for impacted product. See Table 1 for a full list of impacted shipments and affected datecodes. The only product impacted is listed below.

RAA210130GBG#AD0

Impacted product has failing units and good units mixed together due to a factory test hardware handling error.

Renesas has identified impacted product based on the processing lots affected. Impacted product was shipped from Renesas with datecodes 2114, 2201, 2244, 2245 (see Table 1 for full details of impacted product shipments). Affected RAA210130 material should be returned to Renesas for replacement with product that was properly handled and guaranteed to comply with datasheet.

No action is recommended at this time on previously assembled boards that used the impacted units. Customer factory testing will screen out most of the failures.

A full 8D reporting is available upon request.

Customers should contact their distributor or Renesas Customer Sales team for coordination of returns. Renesas apologizes for the inconvenience caused due to this error.
