End of Life (EOL) Notice for E8a Emulator

Jan. 16, 2024

Outline

We are announcing discontinuation of production of the on-chip debugging emulator/flash programmer E8a emulator (hereafter, E8a) due to EOL (end of product) of the product components. We hereby inform you of the final date on which we will be accepting orders of this product.

For an overview of the E8a, refer to the URL below.

<https://www.renesas.com/e8a>

1. Applicable Products

Product name: E8a emulator

Orderable part number: R0E00008AKCE00

For products supported by E8a, check the following.

When using as a debugger:

Target Devices for E8a

When using as a flash programmer:

Available MCUs' for Flash Development Toolkit

2. Final Date for Accepting Product Orders (LBO)

December 31, 2024

Place an order for the required amount by the above final date.

Repair services for the E8a will be supported until December 2027.

However, repairs may not be possible for reasons such as difficulty in obtaining repair parts.

3. Successor product

There is no successor to E8a emulator.

Some devices are supported by PG-FP6 for flash programming.

Refer to the following URL for PG-FP6.
